A meal may also be provided to the spouse or civil union partner, if it is in the best interest of the homebound older person being served. This federal legislation has been supplemented with state legislation to provide nutrition services on weekends and holidays to eligible participants. A health coverage provider may be an insurance company, an HMO or some other type of benefit plan provided by your employer. If your health benefits are provided by either Medicare or Medicaid you cannot choose this option. You CANNOT select Medicare or Medicaid as the primary health insurer. Medicare or Medicaid may provide coverage on a secondary basis, such as when the costs of your care exceed the PIP limits in your auto policy.

Medicare and Medicaid will NOT provide primary coverage for auto accidents.

TAXES/FEEES

New Jersey Gross Income Tax

Every resident individual, even a minor, is required to file a NJ Gross Income Tax Return if gross income received during the taxable year is more than $10,000 and $20,000 or less for the entire year (married couples filing jointly, heads of household, and surviving spouses). A NJ Income Tax Form (NJ-1040) must be filed in order to obtain a refund of taxes withheld or estimated taxes paid. The NJ-1040 must be filed between January and April 15 for the previous tax year, unless you have requested an extension of time to file an income tax return.

Tax legislation authorizes the implementation of a multistate reciprocal personal income tax set-off program. This program allows the withholding of another state's tax claims from New Jersey gross income tax refunds if the other state withholds New Jersey gross income tax claims from its personal income tax refunds.

Gross income includes all income EXCEPT: federal social security benefits; railroad retirement benefits (Tier I and Tier II); United States military pensions and survivor's benefit payments are exempt from New Jersey gross income tax, regardless of your age or disability status; life insurance proceeds received because of a persons death; portion of pensions and annuities, under certain conditions; employee's death benefits; permanent and total disability, including VA benefits; gifts and inheritances; qualifying scholarship or fellowship grants; New Jersey lottery winnings; unemployment compensation; homestead rebates; income tax refunds (NJ, federal & other jurisdictions); employer and employee contributions to 401 (K) salary thrift savings plans; certain distributions from qualified investment funds; direct payments and benefits received under homeless persons assistance programs; welfare; child support.

Homestead Rebate Program

The Homestead Rebate Program has been modified. Instead of receiving rebate checks eligible homeowners will receive their homestead benefit as a CREDIT on their property tax bill starting the second quarter of 2011. Tenants will NOT receive rebate checks.

The Homestead Rebate Program reduces the amount of taxable income (credit reduces amount of tax due) for eligible homeowners and tenants who pay property taxes directly or through rent. The income eligibility limits have been reduced from last year's levels and rebate amounts for these residents may be affected depending on income. The filing process remains the same.

The homestead rebate benefit is in addition to the State's other property tax relief programs. You can still apply for and receive benefits under those programs if you qualify.

You are eligible for a homestead rebate if you meet the following conditions:

Tenants living in dwellings which are not subject to local property tax are not eligible for the rebate.

Office of the Public Guardian for Elderly Adults

The Office of the Public Guardian (OPG) for Elderly Adults is appointed guardian by the New Jersey Superior Court when there is no willing or appropriate family or friend to become the guardian of an incapacitated person 60 years of age or older. The OPG is usually appointed plenary guardian of both person and property. In this capacity, OPG addresses all the physical and mental health and property issues of the ward.

As guardian, the OPG works with the ward as much as he or she is able in order to have input into their decision-making process. For example, the OPG attempts to keep the ward in the least restrictive living environment as possible, utilizing both private and public assistance as appropriate.

At the request of the court the OPG can also serve as an elderly adult conservator. A conservator works on a voluntary basis with the elderly person to administer their property and finances.

The OPG also administers the Professional Guardian Registration Act. Under this law, the OPG oversees the registration process for guardians, maintains a directory of registered professional guardians, and conducts training, and monitors on a sampling basis the registered guardians performance. The OPG also receives numerous telephone calls about guardianship and other elder issues and assists the public on those issues.

For information on public guardianship or its programs contact the Office of the Public Guardian for Elderly Adults, PO Box 812, Trenton, NJ 08625-0812, telephone 609-341-5555.

Predatory Lending

Predatory Lending means any type of abusive lending practice where the lender benefits through unworthiness, deceit, misrepresentation, bad faith, or dishonesty. Predatory lending typically involves at least one, and perhaps all three, of the following elements:

- making unaffordable loans based on the assets of the borrower, rather than on the borrower's ability to repay an obligation ("asset-based lending")
- inducing a borrower to refinance a loan repeatedly in order to charge high points and fees each time the loan is refinanced ("loan flipping")
- engaging in fraud or deception to conceal the true nature of the loan obligation from an unsuspecting or unsophisticated borrower.

Be sure to review documents prior to signing them. If any of the loan terms differ from what was previously discussed or provided make sure you understand why any changes in terms and conditions have been made.

The law seeks to protect seniors from dangerously risky annuities and deceptive practices that lead a vulnerable population to lose much of their hard-earned savings. This law makes clear that using a phony senior-specific designation that falsely implies some financial expertise in the investment needs of our elderly investors is against the law in New Jersey.”

Protecting residents from receiving bad advice from bogus advisors is essential. The predatory annuities prevention law provides certain requirements for marketing, information disclosure and product suitability.
