

Family Intervention Services is offering an informational workshop on cyberbullying and sexting. Parents and youth will learn about all aspects of cyberbullying and sexting including the legal and social consequences of both. Facilitators will utilize a family systems approach and psycho-education to address these topics. The workshops will consist of 2 one hour and a half sessions. Both parent and child will attend the first hour and a half session on the first night and on the second night, the sessions will run concurrently with separate groups for the parent and child.
